President Defends Air Power Rank Of United States

He Tells Newsmen Fact of Navy With Powerful Air Arm Has Been Forgotten In Comparing Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States will feel a lot better about its air power position when the full story has been presented.

Eisenhower told a news conference the United States has a very powerful navy with a powerful air arm. He said that fact has been lost sight of so far in comparing this country's relative strength to that of the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said this country does not try to match Russia in ground power. He indicated it should not necessarily try to match the Soviet Union in the rate of output of such things as intercontinental bombers.

The President's remarks came against a background of statements earlier this week by Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, and Secretary of Defense Wilson, that current U. S. production of intercontinental bombers capable of carrying hydrogen bombs is lagging behind Russian output.

LeMay predicted that Russia is likely to surpass this country in the intercontinental bomb field by 1958-60.

The SAC chief testified before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which is looking into the relative positions of the United States and Russia as to air power.

Ike Denies Indiscretion By His Staff

Chotiner Says He Never Traded On Nixon Association

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today there is no reason to believe the activities of Murray M. Chotiner violate rules of ethics laid down by Eisenhower for his administration.

Eisenhower told his news conference that in no case did any contact the California lawyer-politician have with the White House staff disclose any indiscretion by members of that staff.

Chotiner, Los Angeles attorney and former campaign manager for Vice President Nixon, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee yesterday that two White House staff members made telephone calls for him in some legal cases he was handling.

Chotiner denied that he had ever traded on his association with Nixon or used any influence on behalf of clients.

Eisenhower said that while he had not reviewed Chotiner's testimony he had had reports on it beginning at 2 p.m. yesterday.

Then, by way of background, Eisenhower said he had given two orders which had often been repeated to the executive staff.

The first of these, he said, was that any individual who appealed to the staff for help should receive courteous treatment. He said he would not stand for arrogance.

The second rule, Eisenhower said, was that no one should be permitted to get even an introduction to a government official on the basis that the person who requested the introduction was part of its family, friends or associates.

The President said anybody who violated those rules would be thrown out.

He said there was no reason for believing that these rules had been violated in the case of Chotiner.

In no case did any contact Chotiner had at the White House involve any indiscretion, Eisenhower said, adding that any time there was an indiscretion the guilty individual would go.

The President stressed that Chotiner's contact with one White House official produced no results favorable to Chotiner in a North American Airlines case pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Neither, Eisenhower said, did the second case come out in favor of Chotiner's clients. In that case Chotiner had represented California Central Airlines in its efforts to extend its service to Tia Juana, Mex. The CAB rejected California Central's application.

Charles Walch Dies In Plane Crash In Ohio

Sedalian Is Killed While On Flight With Companion

Charles Frederick Walch II, 20, son of Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, was instantly killed about 5 p.m. Thursday in a plane crash which also took the life of a companion. The crash occurred about three miles south of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Walch, a junior at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, was a member of the Air Force ROTC, and had a flight trainer's rating. It was believed he and his companion, identified as Arnold Perry Gilpatrick, 20, a sophomore at Kenyon from Worthington, Ohio, were on a training flight in a Civil Air Patrol plane.

It was reported a farmer in the vicinity of the crash said he heard the plane and looked up in time to see it nose over and go crashing to the earth. The Ohio State Patrol said Gilpatrick was apparently at the controls.

Both Walch and Gilpatrick were licensed pilots. The plane was a Piper PA18 trainer on loan from the Air Force.

It was reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol it took an hour to free the bodies from the wreckage. The plane did not burn or explode from the crash.

Charles F. Walch was born in Sedalia Oct. 10, 1935, the son of Harry W. and the late Martha Inge Walch. He was the grandson of Mrs. Minnie Walch, 915 West Third, widow of the late Charles F. Walch, Sr. His maternal grandmother was the late Mrs. Ada (Please turn to page 2, column 3)

Cease-Fire Agreements Conditional

Promises Depend On Israel's Action; To Give Report

ROME (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld flew into Rome today amid signs the "unconditional" Arab-Israeli cease-fire pledges he announced are binding only as long as Israel leaves the Jordan River alone.

The U.N. official appeared in high spirits after almost a month of discussions with Arab and Israeli leaders.

Newsmen immediately pressed him about a report from Beirut indicating Lebanon had agreed to a cease-fire only so long as Israel did not resume diversion of the Jordan River, a power-irrigation project dormant for 24 years. The Israelis have threatened to start it again. Previously Syria and Jordan also had made their cease-fire promises conditional on no Israeli tampering with the Jordan.

A spokesman for Hammarskjöld said the secretary would put out a full text of the cease-fire agreements within the next two days.

"They will answer that question by themselves," he said. "We cannot say anything more now."

Commenting on Hammarskjöld's report of the unconditional cease-fire made public at U.N. headquarters in New York yesterday, a Lebanese official in Beirut said: "I assure you Lebanon made a reservation concerning the river Jordan project." Syria and Jordan presumably had the same reservation, since Syria had been the spokesman for all three nations in the negotiations.

Hammarskjöld's report to the Security Council made no mention of the Jordan dispute.

It said negotiations with Israel, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon for "reciprocal assurances unconditionally to observe a cease-fire, with a reservation as to self-defense . . . have in all cases been concluded with positive results."

All three Arab states have warned that any Israeli attempts to resume the river project would be considered an act of aggression—giving them the right under the U.N. Charter to take self-defense measures.

To Resume More Duties—

Doctors Tell Ike He Can Continue Present Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today his doctors have told him he can continue indefinitely his present schedule of work.

Democrats have criticized what they call the part-time activities of the President. Eisenhower was asked at his news conference if he intends to step up his workload.

Eisenhower said that in line with his statement at the time he announced he was available for the Republican nomination he had eliminated normal official social functions except those where heads of visiting heads of states were involved. He said he intends to resume some of the normal social functions in time.

No president can delegate his constitutional duties, Eisenhower said. He added that the president has a responsibility which he alone can fulfill.

But he said he can order others to do things and say to them, in effect, you take the action but I'll take the gaff.

Mrs. Bagby Re-elected To Head BPWC

Attorney Salvater Gives Talk on 'Your Privilege to Vote'

Mrs. Anna Bagby was again elected president of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday night, at a meeting of that organization at Bothwell Hotel, to serve for the year 1956-1957.

Other officers elected were: first vice-president, Miss Doris Stott; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank Wagner; secretary, Mrs. Glenn King; treasurer, Mrs. Marjorie Garanson; historian, Miss Erma Fajen; the parliamentarian, Miss Rose Leibrand; auditor, Mrs. Darrell Bail; chaplain, Mrs. Ray Crosslin; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Louella Swagles; custodian, Mrs. Paul Hagemeier; director, Mrs. Cleo Schumacher; bulletin editor, Mrs. Leland Coontz; and Miss Lois Fricke.

The speaker of the evening was Henry C. Salvater, who gave a very informative talk on "You and Your Privilege to Vote—What a Precious Heritage!"

Salvater told of the great struggle that had gone on from the first of civilization, when people were just chattel, and pointed out that the power of office was inherited by one man, like a king, and determining the rights of the people.

"We take the right to vote for granted," he said.

He told of a book written about 100 years ago which held the idea that the right to vote belonged to the people but there were some exclusions which stated the privilege should not be given those who could not read or write, everyone should have a voice in the government but not an equal voice, every elector must be a taxpayer, ballots should not be secret, and no one should be allowed to vote who was not productive.

In some countries, Salvater pointed out, voting is compulsory and penalties are severe for continued offenses. In this country, according to the constitution it is left to each state who can vote. The Missouri constitution gives the privilege to all citizens of the United States over 21, who have resided in the state one year and the city or county 60 days. All voters must be registered. There used to be a registrar but now voters who are not registered must register with the county clerk up to 6 p.m. the day before election.

"Once registered, you don't have to go back," he said.

Missouri statutes go a long way in protecting the ballot box, Salvater stated with high penalties for bribery and other violations. The nation also has strict laws which they enforce for protection of the ballot box. There was a time when an employer could influence the voting of his employees, he said, but not now. Employees may have the privilege of three hours off from work for voting if the poles are not open three hours before they go to work or three hours after they are off duty. However, the employee must ask off before the day of the voting. The voting is limited only to being a resident of the state. If someone cannot read and write or is physically handicapped the voting is done for them by all the other judges. He also told of the absentee ballot for illness or physical disability.

"Our way is the two party system," Salvater said, "and these must be enforced."

This Conclusion Is Reached At Session's Start

PARIS (AP)—NATO's foreign ministers agreed today the Western world is facing a new and dangerously agile Soviet foreign policy based on economic and cultural penetration.

Reliable sources disclosed the Ministerial Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization reached this conclusion after a full two hours in NATO headquarters.

The discussion opened with a detailed report on the recent visit to Britain of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Ministers gave their interpretations of Russian moves and advice on how the West must meet the Kremlin's new look. NATO officials maintained silence on the ministerial appraisal of Russia's actions and Western reaction to them.

Expansion of the 15-nation alliance into political and economic fields is a topic in the sessions, which will continue through tomorrow. It appeared final decisions on such proposals will be postponed at least until December.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, two of the leading council members, were reported to have agreed that all proposals for broadening NATO should be referred to a special committee of foreign ministers, probably five in number. The committee would report to the next full council session — in December.

Dulles was said to be ready to serve on the committee, if asked.

NATO was formed as a military bulwark when there were active fears of direct Soviet aggression against Western Europe. Now some Western officials believe it must be reshaped to meet Russia's new "trade and aid" offensive in other parts of the world.

Dulles has said the organization must be made into "something more than a military alliance."

One line of thinking calls for strengthening the economic ties of alliance members, perhaps by distributing or at least directing the distribution of nonmilitary aid through the organization.

Another envisages tightening the pact's political machinery through more top-level meetings and attempts to solve differences between members.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau already has outlined to Dulles a plan calling for a new agency to distribute aid to backward countries. France wants the agency set up outside NATO and determining the rights of the people.

Informants said Dulles and Lloyd agreed in a meeting yesterday that the economic and political functions of NATO must be expanded, but Britain opposes extension of the organization into the field of aid to underdeveloped areas outside the alliance membership.

Lloyd was said to have told Dulles Britain will agree to expansion of the consultative functions of NATO in the political field, but thinks aid programs should be pushed through other existing institutions.

Both Britain and France feel an NATO link would handicap aid programs in neutralist areas because of the pact's identification with the military aid of the cold war.

Responsible diplomatic sources said the Dulles-Lloyd talks also brought fresh appeals from Britain for the easing of Western bans on the sale of strategic goods to Russia and Communist China.

Missouri Can Expect Continued Chilly Weather This Evening

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missourians can expect continued chilly weather tonight and the weather man predicts considerable cloudiness and showers or thunderstorms in the north and west portions of the state tomorrow.

The low temperature is expected to be in the 40s tonight. Saturday's high is expected to range from the 60s in the extreme northwest to the upper 70s in the southeast. Kirksville had the low reading of 40 degrees last night. The high of 81 was at Springfield.

Good rainfalls are in the five-day forecast picture. The Weather Bureau says precipitation will average an inch or more over most of the state, the moisture coming from showers or thunderstorms tomorrow and Sunday and again about Tuesday and Wednesday.

Temperatures the next five days are expected to average 3 to 6 degrees below normal.

Soil Bank Is Approved—

New Farm Bill Passed by House Is Believed Acceptable to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new farm bill, believed acceptable in most respects to President Eisenhower, headed for the Senate today after clearing House barriers.

The House passed the bill 314-78 late yesterday after rejecting, by a 211-184 vote along party lines, Eisenhower's request for authority to make soil bank payments to farmers this year in advance of next year's operations.

The soil bank itself was approved, with authority to pay 14 billion dollars a year to farmers for taking land out of production. Payments this year were approved for those who comply this year.

Defeat of the President's pay-in-advance proposal, denounced by Democrats as a Republican election-year "vote buying" gimmick, was the principal result of yesterday's House action.

City Attorney Clears Bewilderment on Time Of School Speed Limit

The recent radar speed check in school zones has brought up the question as to what constitutes hours of enforcement in these zones.

According to information received from the city attorney, James Durley, the period of enforcement of the 15-mile-per-hour limit is not specified in the city ordinance due to the irregularity of hours during which the schools are used for various meetings.

However, it is the policy of the police to enforce the law only during hours when there might be congestion in the district, such as the period starting an hour before school time and ending an hour after school dismissal. Also the law will be enforced during any period of an evening when there is a meeting of some kind at the school.

Police Court Has Big Day After Radar

It was a big day at the city hall in police court Friday morning when 27 cases of speeding in school zones were disposed of. The violations were made at either Horace Mann School, on West 16th Street, or at Broadway School, on West Broadway. A total of 54 tickets had been given persons who were checked by the radar in the zones.

There were 18 who either forfeited their cash bonds or were fined for violation of the 15 mile speed zone at Horace Mann School out of 36 tickets which were issued Thursday morning.

Those who either forfeited cash bonds or were fined for violation of the speed zone at Broadway School totaled nine out of 18 who were issued tickets.

Radar checks will be made constantly at all schools from time to time in an effort to stop motorists from driving above the limit zones around schools.

Numerous questions have been asked, why check from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. during school hours when no children are on the grounds or going to and from school? The answer was explained to be a simple one. No one knows when school might have to be dismissed hurriedly in case of an emergency and put many children out of the building and allow them to cross the streets. Another is oftentimes children have to leave school either because of being called home or because of sickness and they have to cross the street.

"I would rather see my officers not have to make arrests, than have to," Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors said Friday morning. "But without the 100 per cent cooperation of the citizens, it becomes necessary to make arrests. It isn't like to hand out traffic tickets, but when the traffic laws and other laws too are violated, that is what we are hired to do, enforce them."

"We would rather be known as peace officers, not arresting officers, but that can't come until the motoring public and other persons who violate our laws begin to obey them," Neighbors concluded.

Police are going by the rules laid down by the city traffic ordinance recently passed and which must be enforced.

two parties seem similar at times but that is our way of doing it.

Voting came through sacrifice down through the ages and the greatest peril in this democratic form of government is indifference. To vote is a right or a duty or both.

Salveter pointed out the importance of voting on the school bond issue on May 8.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Anna Bagby, president, and the speaker was introduced by Miss Helen Giokaris, chairman of the legislation committee.

Invocation was given by Miss Eugenia Arnold, Group singing was led by Mrs. Ruth Riley with Miss Doris Stott at the piano.

Miss Giokaris also presented Karen Crosslin, violinist, who played several numbers. She was accompanied by Marilyn Kelley.

Donations were given by members of the organization for bringing the American Field Exchange Student from Norway to Sedalia for the next school year. A sum of $26.09 was turned over to Mrs. Thelma Cook for the American Association of University Women, the organization sponsoring the student.

Gone In The Season Of His Prime . . .

Adults who have intimate contact with young people feel emotionally jolted when sudden death takes them away. This is especially true about those who, passing from teen age into manhood, have by performance indicated they are equipped for a promising future.

"Chuck" Walch was one of those youngsters. Even as a toddler he showed unusual musical talent. Some of us remember seeing him performing at piano recitals, later as an acolyte in church, a singer in the choir, an instrumental player in the high school band, a student director of that band and as orchestra concert master; the time he began the photographic hobby in which he became professional, the summers he pitched in with his father and brother Stan doing work on the farm, the months during school vacation time when he worked on the newspaper of which only recently he became a stockholder.

Then came college days in Texas and Ohio. He had an intense desire to learn to fly an airplane, which he did, and in this, like almost everything he undertook, he excelled. He became an instructor in flying. And that was what he was doing when the end came Thursday. According to news from Ohio, "Chuck" was teaching a friend to fly.

During the last two years "Chuck" grew up fast. He liked to talk on the level with adults who somehow forgot his baby days during the animated conversation sessions we around the newspaper shop had with him.

For as far as "Chuck" went in his development in such a short life and the cheerful and vigorous example he left for other youth to follow, one thing we know, his adorable mother, who preceded him in death 10 years ago, is mighty proud of what he accomplished while he was here. Just as proud, too, are his father, Harry, and brothers, Stan, Tony and Teddy.

And so are his friends, adult and young, whom "Chuck" left behind.

They are legion.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Skeptics Underrate Russian Air Ability

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It was on May Day, two years ago this week, that the United States got its first shock indicating that Russia was on the way to forging ahead of us in air power.

As American and Allied military attaches stood reviewing the usual May Day exhibition of Russian military might, a giant jet thundered over Moscow house-tops at an altitude of only 250 feet. The bomber was so tremendous that its shadow literally spanned the great Red Square as it flashed through the morning sunlight. American observers quickly noted that its four intake vents seemed larger than any they had seen at home, that the heavy plane easily kept up with swift jet fighter squadrons.

Messages of shocked reaction immediately burned the cables to Washington. But Secretary of Defense Wilson refused to be alarmed. He dismissed the new bomber as a single, hand-built prototype assembled by the Russians to scare the western world into more defense spending. He noted that the plane had only four engines and pronounced it an underpowered showpiece. Air Force generals disagreed, but Wilson overruled them.

Real shock came a year later—1955—when the Russians flew their prize bomber across the Moscow skyline again. By that time the lone giant of the previous May Day had company—18 more big battle-planes. Of these, 13 bore routine Red air force markings. Six, with no markings, apparently were so fresh from the factory they hadn't been assigned to combat units. Each sported a new underbelly bulge, an ominous modification that experts identified as extra room for the H-bomb.

Eleven Short Years

Our intelligence agencies went to work compiling technical data. All available facts on the monster bomber were secretly supplied to our own manufacturers. They were asked to figure how long it took the Russians to produce such a plane. The whole Soviet air buildup was re-examined, and the fantastic truth emerged.

In 11 short years, the Russians had not only caught up with us in design, but outstripped us in production of jet planes. Numerically, the Soviet Union today has the world's largest air force. She has more combat planes than this country, and her factories are producing them faster. She has accomplished this so secretly that our intelligence has repeatedly been caught napping.

Our technical intelligence has made detailed examinations of 14 Soviet planes since 1945. These airplane autopsies showed that Soviet technology lagged behind us from 1945 until 1952. Since 1952, the Russians have equalled our best efforts in air weapons. In some categories, we are slightly ahead; in others, they are superior.

American manufacturers concluded from their secret study that Russia's giant jet Bison completed the cycle from drawing board to military service in four years—compared with the eight years which the U.S. spent developing the B-52. The first Bison appeared over Moscow two years before our intelligence thought it could be possible. When the Russians flew 19 in formation a year later, the U.S. had only two complete B-52s.

Sealed in Factories

American agents report the Kremlin sealed engineers, technicians, and workers into Plant 23 in Moscow and refused to let them out until they had built the Bison. The imprisoned personnel, working around the clock, set an astonishing production record.

The Soviets are now turning out the Bison at Plant 23 at the rate of five every month. They are using unskilled labor wherever possible, taking short cuts and holding down design changes. Soon, says Air Force intelligence, Plant 23 should be making 10 Bisons per month. Russia already has 20 jet-powered Bisons assigned to combat units. Our total of B-52s ready for combat is only three. (In both countries, of course, many more of the big jets are near completion.)

On top of all this, Kremlin czar Nikita Khrushchev has now boasted that Russia will also develop the first intercontinental guided missile with a hydrogen warhead. This missile will be capable of hitting anywhere in the world with a destructive force measured in millions of tons of TNT. Our experts say Khrushchev would not risk losing face by making this open boast unless he was sure of himself.

Note: The Eisenhower administration's economy program, more than anything else, has cost us air superiority. Administration spokesmen excuse this on the ground that peace prospects are better, hence there is less need for a big air force. Air generals warn, however, that we must gear our strength to Russian capabilities, not guesswork on Russian intentions.

Diphtheria Outbreaks

Spring brings its health hazards to little children. The United States Public Health Service warns parents of the outbreak of diphtheria and suggests that all children be checked for their immunity. If they have never been inoculated, they should be because the epidemics that have broken out in Indiana, Ohio, California, Kentucky and other southern states could be serious.

The Health Service urges that pre-school children should be given at least four diphtheria shots before they enter school. Even adults have contracted the disease in some of the epidemic areas and consequently the Health Service suggests school children should be checked and adults as well to ascertain whether or not the immunity has been lost.

Diphtheria is a painful and often fatal disease and since it can be prevented, parents and communities should take advantage of the scientific service which will save their children.

Paste In Your Hat

Some people seem to have the idea that the perils of fast driving and drinking, particularly on big holiday weekends, are exaggerated by traffic authorities. The National Safety Council's latest study should startle them.

Analyzing 501 of the 564 Christmas holiday fatalities last year, the council concluded that excess speed was a factor in 85 per cent of the accidents, as compared with an annual average of 35 per cent.

At the same time, it found that drinking drivers during that holiday period were involved in 55 per cent of the accidents, against an average of 20 per cent in more ordinary times.

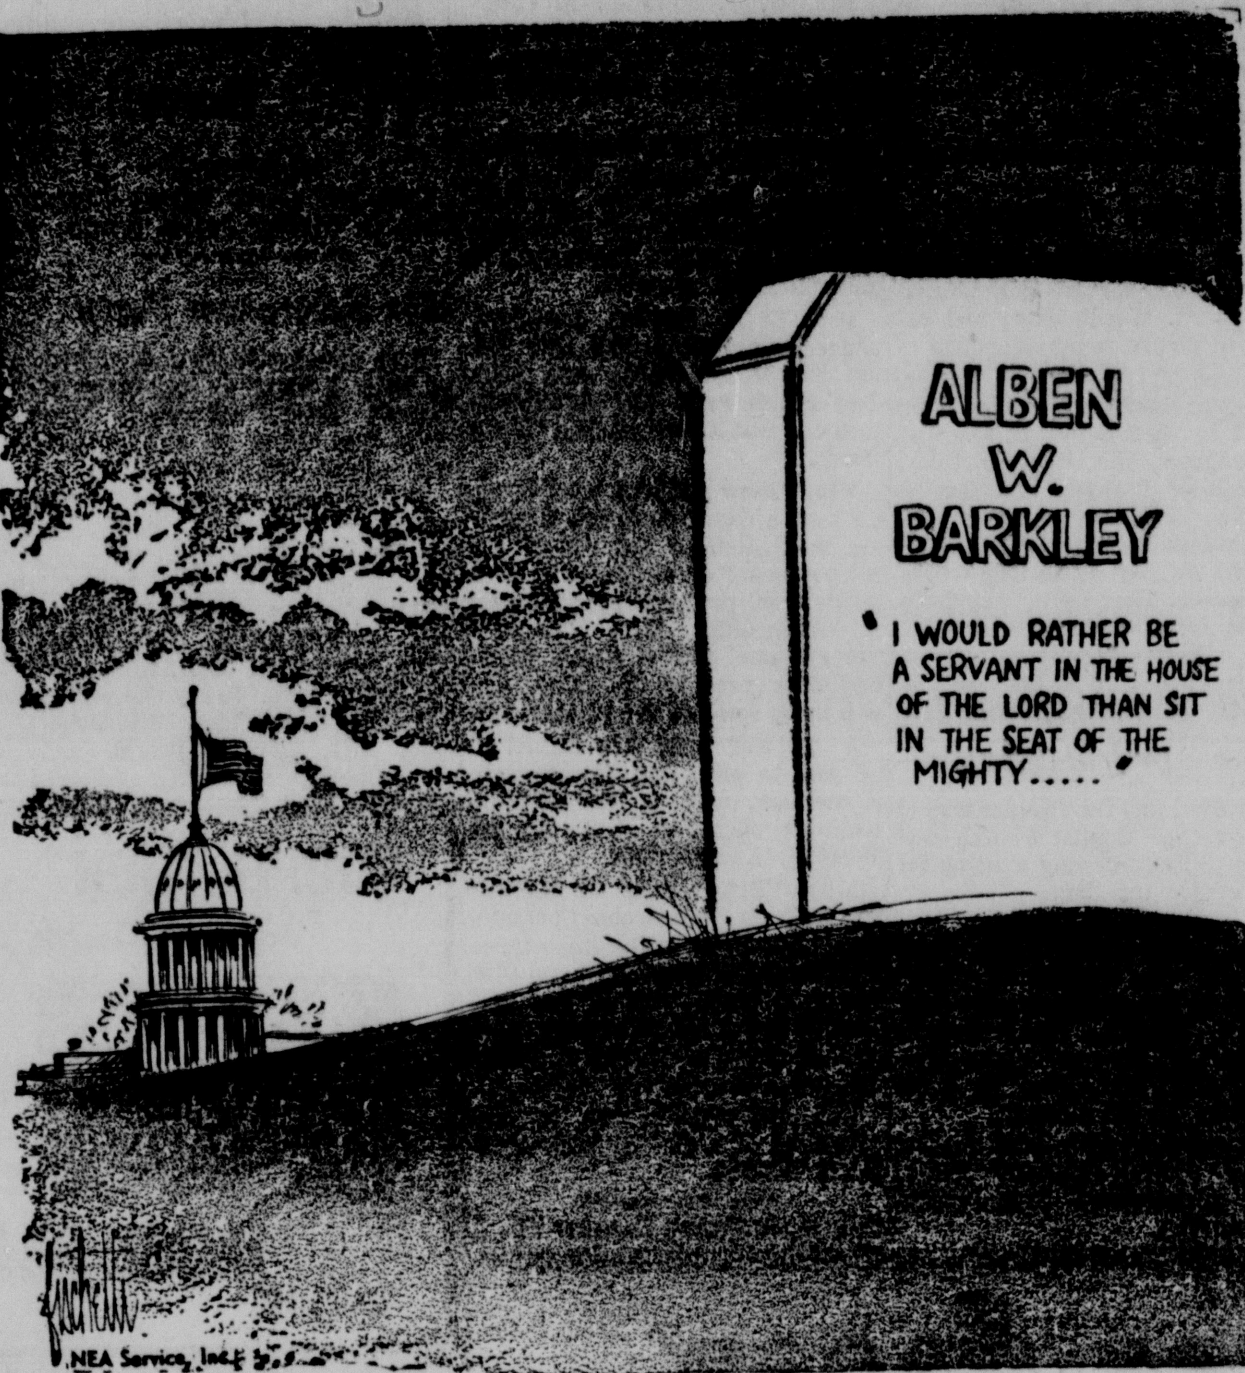

Every driver in America ought to paste those figures in his Sunday hat and trot it out next time he thinks of cutting any fancy holiday capers.

Effect of Red Control Act Is Doubtful

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was like putting rollerskates on a cop trying to surprise prowlers in a bottle factory when Congress passed the Communist Control Act of 1954 and handed it to the government to use.

What a sales talk! It was made to sound big. It was described at the time as an act to outlaw the Communist party. It did no such thing. The act's preamble said the party should be outlawed. But the act itself didn't provide for doing it.

And what a bust! For days after it was passed government lawyers shook their heads over it, trying to figure out what it meant and how it could be used, if at all. And very little use has been made of it.

This was one law which was passed together in a windstorm on the floors of Congress, whose members soon had to face the voters in the 1954 elections. It was a time when politicians were outdoing one another in their anti-communism.

The government didn't welcome this law. It already had weapons for cracking down on the Communist party as a whole (the Internal Security Act of 1950) and on Communist leaders individually (the Smith Act of 1940).

Under the Smith Act, which was then being used, the government has sent 102 of the party's top and second-rank leaders to jail for involvement in conspiracy against the United States.

And at that time, 1954, the government was up to its neck, as it still is, in a court fight to have the 1950 law held constitutional by the Supreme Court. Only this week the court put off a decision until at least 1957.

The government, under that 1950 law, argues the Communist party is not really an American political party but a Russian agent. If the court upholds this view, the party will have to register as such.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Herbert Cox, nine miles northeast of Sedalia, sold his farm of 280 acres and arranged to leave for Texas to reside.

1931 Dr. A. W. Nelson and Arthur Wallace, Booneville business men, were in attendance at the boxing show staged April 30 by the American Legion.

1931 W. S. Kroesch, who has been manager of the J. C. Penney store at Higginsville, a former Sedalian, is to return here as assistant manager of the Burr store, 308-310 South Ohio.

FORTY YEARS AGO Houston Hart, one of the publishers of the Central Missouri Republican at Booneville, was in the city in interest of that publication.

1916 The MKT Athletic Association secured a tract of land east from the company shops on South Grand that was being converted into a useful and attractive athletic park.

1916 George M. Pemberton, county treasurer one term, announced his candidacy for re-nomination for that office at the August primaries.

1916 Dr. K. R. Barnum, Sedalia, was elected vice-president of the Missouri State Homeopathic Society at its convention held in Kansas City.

The Communists, of course, won't register. That would be to admit they are Russian agents. They will change the party name, and start another court fight, or go underground.

At any rate the government has been fighting out the 1950 law for six years. And it is by no means certain the court will uphold any law which directly or indirectly smashes the party.

If the government had started trying to use the 1954 act, while the 1950 law was being fought in court, the Communists would go to court over that one too. The two laws might wind up wrecking the government's case altogether.

For instance, the 1954 act says the party would lose the "rights, privileges and immunities attendant upon legal bodies." The Communist party's basic argument against the 1950 law is that it is a legal political party.

And what rights, privileges and immunities? That's one of the questions which had government lawyers scratching their heads.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Seasickness Makes You Want to Die--You Won't

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

More people are traveling by automobile, by air and by water than ever before. Hence more of us are exposed to the possibilities of motion sickness—seasickness or air sickness. So the question of prevention of this unpleasant condition is a matter of widespread concern.

I do not know of anyone ever dying from motion sickness nor even being permanently disabled by it. Indeed, the person who is not affected in this manner may be somewhat amused by the one who is. However, it is surely not amusing in the slightest to the person who is incapacitated by the illness.

The symptoms are almost too well known to describe. Usually, the victim has been feeling fine and in good spirits and suddenly becomes quiet and subdued. He begins to feel nauseated and mentally depressed. Life no longer seems worth living. The skin generally becomes pale or greenish and is clammy with a cold sweat. The stomach rebels violently to the motion but emptying it brings little relief.

Many remember the misery of previous attacks of seasickness or motion sickness so vividly that they will never thereafter expose themselves voluntarily to circumstances which might bring it on again.

There are thousands of alleged "remedies" for seasickness. In all probability, time and the adjustment of the body to the motion is what brings final relief, although some remain acutely uncomfortable until they feel solid ground underfoot.

During the last six or seven years there have been increasing efforts to find a drug or drugs which might prevent or, at least, give some protection against motion sickness.

The medical departments of the armed forces have been particularly active. Even the temporary incapacitation of military personnel has military significance.

Recently, a lengthy evaluation of drugs for prevention of motion sickness appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Over 50 preparations were studied on more than 7,000 subjects aboard transport ships. Fourteen of these gave some protection, three of them taken from one to three times daily proved more effective than any of the others.

I shall not name them since I do not believe in self medication even for motion sickness and almost any active drug can have unfavorable side effects. However, one or more of these will undoubtedly be available to ship or airline passengers who may need them. Others can no doubt obtain them through their physicians.

Two or three other interesting conclusions were presented in this report. One was that there was less seasickness in the older than in the younger military men transported on board ship. Another was that there was less difficulty in those quartered in the center of the ship than those living in the bow or stern.

Average Spending For Food Is $30 Per Week

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
WASHINGTON—How much does an average family of four spend a week on food?

The experts over at the Department of Agriculture are not only working to find that answer but also how much the amounts differ from region to region, city to city, rural to urban.

It's a good forecast the national average will be about $30 a week. This is based on the last official check of 1948 with allowance made for a 6.5 per cent increase in food prices. (Happily the food price increase is not as high as the increase in average family income.)

As Sedalia Sees It—

Undramatic Probe Deals With Important Fusion Process

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
The Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The huge caucus room of the House Office building, where klieg light productions starring the Hollywood Ten and Alger Hiss once ran, is now the scene of a thoroughly undramatic show directed by Congressman John Moss (D-Cal.).

In terms of comedown from the colorful, this is about the same as if the Tuesday Nite Gilbert & Sullivan Club was turned loose in the Metropolitan. But even if Congressman Moss has got a turkey without audience appeal he has brought significant information to light.

He is, incidentally, chairman of a Government Operations Subcommittee which is investigating the information policy of the federal government. One point made during the recent hearings of the sub-committee was that Russia is edging us in developing nuclear power for peacetime use because of our government's refusal to make pertinent information available to American industry.

The man who made this point was Donald Hughes, senior physicist at Brookhaven Laboratories. Hughes offered this opinion just a short time after Professor Igor Kurchatov, the Russian atomic authority, had stunned a British audience with his frank discussion of Soviet efforts to control the fusion process.

Fusion is what takes place when an H-bomb explodes. Fission occurs when an A-bomb goes off. The fission process can be controlled, and that's why it is possible to generate power for industrial use by the atomic process. If fusion can be controlled, it will be possible to generate electric power by thermonuclear reaction. According to the scientists, the fusion process would probably be as superior to the fission process for generating commercial power as the H-bomb is to the A-bomb for purposes of destruction.

Hughes told the Moss subcommittee it was high time the U. S. government declassified information relating to control of the fusion process. He said this could be done without compromising in any way security information relating to construction of an H-bomb. He described as "completely different" the process by which the bomb operates and by which peaceful power could be generated. And he pointed out that United States has already declassified information relating to the controlled fission process without telling how an A-bomb works.

What Hughes told the Moss subcommittee has been said before, especially in the McKinney report. Private industry knows the fusion process, if perfected, would make old-style atomic reactors obsolete. And that, according to eminent authorities, is one reason American industry has been backward in pushing development of reactors. No industrialist wants to put millions into a process that could become obsolete overnight.

Before Kurchatov, the United States had always moved to lift the curtain of secrecy in specific areas of nuclear science. Russia was a follower. But insofar as fu-

In 1948, the average family of four spent $28.15 a week on food.

In the 1948 check in four cities (Birmingham, Ala., Minneapolis, Buffalo, and Los Angeles) it was revealed the average family in Birmingham spent less than the national average of $28.15 and this was also true in Minneapolis. The average family in Buffalo and San Francisco spent more than the weekly national total.

It is estimated that today the differences would be: Birmingham, $26.10; Minneapolis, $28.83; Buffalo, $31.67; and San Francisco, $33.10. The new official report may be completed late this fall.

sion is concerned, Russia beat us. Hughes estimated that Kurchatov gave out about 80 per cent of the experimental knowledge the Russians have acquired in this field.

Ironically, American businessmen may not benefit from Kurchatov's disclosures. United States had no scientific representative at the Harwell meeting where the Russian scientist spoke. This came about because the State Department recalled its scientific attaché from our London embassy and sent no replacement. Thus there was no American present who could evaluate first hand Kurchatov's speech. The British may make a transcript available. And again, they may not. According to Hughes, we may never know everything Kurchatov said.

Generally speaking, the major problem that arises in attempting to control the fusion process involves the extreme temperatures which are generated. No known metal can withstand them. Apparently the Russians hope to lick this aspect of the problem by achieving control through manipulation of electrical and magnetic fields.

The importance of all this is obvious enough, but the facts assume additional significance when placed in the larger frame of reference. East and West are locked in a struggle. And the outcome of that struggle may be decided on an economic rather than a military battlefield. The side that first develops the fusion process to the point where it can be controlled for peaceful use may gain decisively on the economic front.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

A vast network of wires has covered America in less than half a century. These metallic fibres have changed our way of living and have made our life so different that our forebears would not be able to believe their eyes if they were to come alive in our electric age.

Almost everything now depends on electricity for its power of functioning. As we look at the metal strings stretching from pole to pole we do not know whether pictures, voices, light or power are moving unseen before our very eyes.

We do not understand the cause behind electricity, but we know that it has always existed and that it is only usable as a result of moving objects near other moving objects with a lot of wired connections.

We cannot see electricity, but we can see its results. We cannot describe it adequately, yet we accept this wonderful servant of man on faith without understanding much about it.

Faith is the evidence of things not seen. It is the substance of consistency. It is the reality of the unknown.

No one who rides in an automobile or who switches on a light can any longer say, "I cannot believe in God because I cannot see Him."

Belief in God is easier than belief in electricity. We accept obvious results in faith.

Christian Home Week Observed By First Baptist

The First Baptist Church will observe this week, May 6-13, as Christian Home Week. The pastor's subjects will be Sunday morning, "When a Home Is Christian," and in the evening, "The Inescapable Judgment." At the morning hour the choir will sing an anthem, "Holy, Holy, Holy," by Cain and in the evening there will be a special number by Carl Vessen. At the Training Union Hour at 6:45 there will be a special emphasis on the Christian home.

Sometime ago it was decided to establish a church library. This week there will be a church library representative from the Baptist Book Store in Kansas City spending a few days with the church to furnish guidance in setting up a church library. This will serve a great need in making the good books available to the church for use.

On Wednesday evening the officers and teachers of the Sunday School will meet at 7:15 and the monthly business meeting of the church will be at 8 p.m. The church is considering some matters having to do with the enlargement of the facilities and a good number of people will be expected to attend this business meeting.

Trust and Luck are villages within three miles of one another in North Carolina.

S-C Golfer Scores 'Ace' In Dual Meet

Tiger Swingers Beat Kemper There For Sixth Victory

Smith-Cotton High School's golf team registered a 11½-3½ victory over Kemper Military Thursday on a Kemper course, but the star performance of the match was by Mike Lee, a newcomer to the Tiger squad this year, who sank a hole-in-one on the par-3 second hole of the course.

The match had little more than begun when Lee, having just finished the first hole with a bogey six, pulled a seven-iron from the bag, stepped to the tee of the 107-yard hole and knocked the ball into the cup for an "ace" to put him one under par. He finished the first round with a par 36 score and annexed a 37 on the back nine for a 73. Coincidentally, Lee was using an "Ace" brand ball when he scored the hole-in-one.

Gilbert "Gib" Roberts, however, was the leading Smith-Cotton shot-maker in the race for medalist honors of the meet. Roberts finished with a four-under-par tally of 34-34—68 for the 18 holes, followed closely by Vic Van Dyne with 36-35—71. John Harlow and John Woodward tied for Kemper with 75's.

Smith-Cotton's win was their sixth in as many meets this season.

The Tiger golfers will engage the Springfield team in a dual event on the Countryview course here Monday.

Then on Tuesday they will return to Kemper to defend their Central Missouri Conference golf championship against Columbia, Kemper and Hannibal.

Individual scores by holes, with nine-hole and 18-hole totals (points won in parenthesis) are:

SMITH-COTTON
Roberts (3)	523	343	455-34

Old Guard Threatens Lead of Three Young Rising Golf Figures

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Three of golf's rising young men—Dow Finsterwald, Paul Harney and Peter Thomson—led the $25,000 Colonial Invitation tournament into its second round today but three members of the old guard were making threatening gestures.

Finsterwald, who plays out of Bedford Heights, O.; Harney, from Bolton, Mass., and Thomson, the 26-year-old British Open champion from Melbourne, Australia, shot 1-under-par 69's yesterday to take the first round lead, noted shotmakers from Texas—Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Tommy Bolt.

All three of the leaders are 26 years old and Finsterwald and Thomson both have been consistent winners. Harney, less than two years on the PGA tour, has yet to take a major tournament. He did win the Egyptian match play championship last month, receiving $12,000 for it.

Hogan is one of the favorites but pre-tournament choice for the first money was Cary Middlecoff of Dallas. But Middlecoff had to be satisfied with a 73.

Tied at 72 are Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Jack Burke of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., Roberto de Vicenzo of Mexico City, Gordon Brydson of Toronto, Canada, and Stan Leonard of Le Chute, Canada.

Denver Bears Pad League Lead With Wins Over Senators

By The Associated Press

It'll be six weeks before the Charleston Senators meet Denver's American Assn. leaders again. And even then, it'll be too soon.

While Denver's nearest rivals were losing, the Bears padded their league lead to four games last night on two one-run victories over Charleston.

Outfit in both contests, the Bears used home runs to nip their Eastern cousins, 3-2 and 1-0. The Senators fell into the league cellar, nine games off the pace.

Meanwhile, an Indianapolis homer edged St. Paul, 3-2 in 10 innings, and Wichita trimmed Minneapolis, 6-3. The Twin City rivals are virtually tied for second place, four games behind Denver. Louisville beat Omaha, 3-1.

Righthander Georges Maranda and Charley Gorin, a lefty, limited Minneapolis to four hits as Wichita took its second straight from the defending champions. Three singles and a walk gave the Braves three runs in the first, and Harry Hanebrink's two-run homer in the third stowed away the verdict. The Millers loaded the bases in the ninth but couldn't make good the threat.

First Quarter Could Decide Derby Winner

Positions Drawn Not Considered Good for Any

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The winner of the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby could be decided tomorrow in the first quarter mile when the field of 3-year-olds battle for racing room.

Not one of the favorites among the 18 entered yesterday fared well in the draw for positions.

Needles, the 2-1 favorite from the Florida D. and H. Stable, drew the No. 1 post position on the rail, for a speed horse that would be ideal. But the son of Ponder, like his daddy, prefers to drop back in the first part of a race, then storm from behind in the home stretch.

C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who with Head Man is quoted at 4-1, is the same type of a runner. And he drew No. 2. Head man, who likes to race closer to the early pace, came out much better. He'll start from No. 5, generally considered one of the better post positions.

Countermand, the 8-1 choice from Don Ross' Brandywine Stable of Delaware, who moved into the favorite group with his great stretch finish back of Fabius in the Derby Trial Tuesday, is on the end of the starting gate in the 18th stall. Again this wouldn't be too bad for even a stretch runner like the son of Greek Song.

But Countermand has shown a tendency to bear out and it'll take all of jockey Arnold Kirkman's horsemanship to keep him in contention during the first part of the race so he'll be in position to move when Needles and Career Boy cut loose—that is if they do.

Only Fabius, who along with Pintor Lea is seeking a sixth Derby triumph for Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, came out of the post position draw with the best break of the choices. He drew No. 13.

Pintor Lea, who drew No. 4, could be the surprise of the race if he has recovered sufficiently from a wrenched knee that retarded his training.

It looks now as if the 100,000 or so fans and the horses, at least those who prefer a fast track, will get a break in the weather. The forecast is fair and cool.

CBS will telecast and broadcast the Derby from 4:15 to 4:45 p.m. EST.

Although 18 were named, there is a possibility that no more than 17 will start since T. A. Grissom's Reaping Bird injured a leg in a workout shortly after the Detroit owner planked down the $250 entry fee. On the basis of 17 starters the race will gross $167,550 with a net of $123,450 to the winner. Both will be record figures.

An average suit of medieval armor weighed about 45 pounds.

R. R. Prisendorf Serves Aboard USS Porterfield

WITH THE U.S. SEVENTH FLEET (Delayed) — Richard R. Prisendorf, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Prisendorf of 1524 East Sixth, Sedalia, is serving aboard the Pacific Fleet destroyer USS Porterfield (DD-682).

The Porterfield, along with three other Navy ships, completed a five-day goodwill visit to Sydney, Australia, on April 5 and is now with the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

While in Sydney, largest of Australian cities, the 1,000 men were guests of honor at luncheons and dinner parties given by organizations and private individuals.

Free transportation and gratis admission to the race track, zoo and agricultural show were offered by the hospitable Australians. Sydney's Taronga Zoological Gardens is one of the world's famed zoos and the Royal Agricultural Show, similar to the American state fair, is Australia's big event of the year.

Open house was held each afternoon aboard the destroyers and approximately 32,000 Australians streamed across the ships' gangways. On one day, 10,000 persons visited the destroyers during the three-hour period.

The Australian Navy reciprocated by feting their visitors with a luncheon aboard Her Majesty's Ship Penguin. The Aussie navy-men guided the American servicemen around the city and the sailors of the two countries compared operating equipment on their respective ships.

Following the five-day visit the U.S. destroyers sailed for Far Eastern waters where they are expected to visit ports of Sasebo, Yokosuka and Hong Kong before returning to the United States.

Prisendorf is assigned to the operations department of the Porterfield, and assists the radar-men.

Before entering the Navy in October, 1955, he attended Smith-Cotton High School in Sedalia, and was employed at Howerton's Sedalia Service Station.

Presidents Chester A. Arthur, Grover Cleveland, and Woodrow Wilson, were sons of ministers of the Gospel.

Robert Zoernig Takes Basic Combat Training

Pvt. Robert J. Zoernig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Zoernig, 236 South Prospect, is receiving basic combat training with the 8th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo.

Zoernig is training with Headquarters Company of the division's 28th Regiment. The 8th is preparing for its move to Europe next fall as part of Operation Gyroscope.

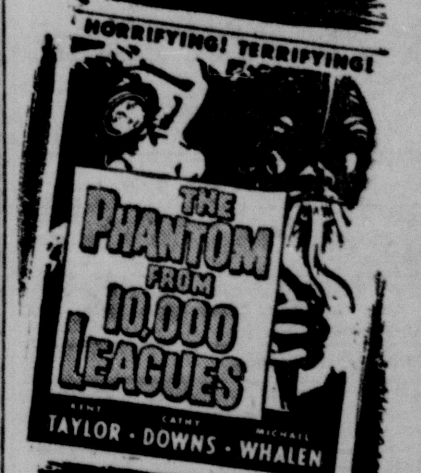

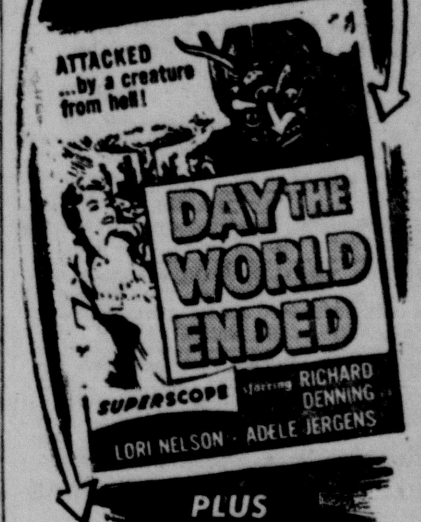

The 24-year-old soldier entered the Army this month. He is a 1955 graduate of the University of Missouri and is a member of Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

Jimmy, Jeanie Seem to Have Gone Western

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Blimey, if Jimmy and Jeanie ain't gone western!

You know who they are, guv'nor. Stewart Granger (real name: James Stewart) and Jean Simmons, of course, two of the nicest blokes what ever came over from Old Blighty. And now they're heading for the large open spaces.

Yes, sir, that's right, Granger and his wife have purchased a New Mexico ranch that makes Grace Kelly's new realm look like a phone booth. They are owners of 103 square miles near Silver City, N.M. What's more, they plan to live there permanently, leaving only to make movies.

I explained the whole bloom-in' business over lunch at 20th Century-Fox.

"I'm not so sure how I am going to like it," she said warily. "But it's what Jimmy wants, so I'll go along with it."

"It all started when he was working on 'The Last Hunt.' He met a hunter who told him about a ranch in New Mexico. Jimmy went down to see it, but it wasn't quite right. But he saw some others, including the one we bought. I understand it's a very beautiful country and fine for cattle. I haven't seen it yet."

Mrs. Granger is pregnant and hasn't done much traveling, though she may accompany her husband to England where he'll make a movie with Ava Gardner. She observed that the wilds of New Mexico might be a better place to rear their children than in class-conscious Hollywood. Their family includes two of his youngsters, 10 and 12, by a previous marriage.

Help, Police!
COLUMBIA, S. C. — Martin Hungerpiller parked his car in the lot outside the office where he works. Another car rolled down an incline, bumped his car into a third one, causing an estimated $35 damage to a fender. Hungerpiller is a clerk in the detective office and the cars were in the police department lot.

Edwin Booth is the only actor who ever has been elected to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans.

Troops Guard Morocco Town Where 40 Died In Vengeful Bloodbath

MARRAKECH, Morocco — Troops in full battle dress today guarded this city in the Atlas foothills where 40 persons died in a vengeful bloodbath directed at friends of the late Thami el Glaoui.

A tight curfew appeared to have curbed the mob fury against supporters of the Glaoui, pro-French pasha of Marrakech who died in January of cancer.

The Glaoui, an old Berber chieftain, was a long-time backer of French rule in Morocco. He became a special target of hatred for nationalists when he took the lead in the ouster of Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef. After nationalist violence forced France to return the Sultan to power, a few months before his death, the Glaoui begged Ben Youssef's forgiveness and pledged allegiance to him. The pasha's years of pro-French activity were not forgotten.

Mobs took to the streets two days ago and again yesterday, flushing supporters of the Glaoui from their homes and hacking and

He May Make Good Neighbor Visit Soon To Panama's Capital

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may make a good neighbor visit to Panama City June 25-26.

"He would like to go," James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said last night.

Panama has invited the presidents of the other 20 American republics to attend ceremonies marking the 130th anniversary of the 1826 Congress of Panama called by Simon Bolivar to forge a bond among Latin-American nations then only recently freed from Spanish rule.

Hagerty said Eisenhower is studying his prospective business schedule to determine whether he can make the trip. He probably would travel by plane.

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today.

Fairly cool weather continued in most of the Northern areas while it was mild across the southern half of the nation. There was a little cooling in the Central Plains but other areas reported little temperature change from yesterday.

Skies were clear from the southern plains northeastward through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley and most of the Ohio Valley, in New England and in North Dakota. It was cloudy or wet in other parts of the country.

Bakes By the Weather

CINCINNATI — Pastry chef Gene Vogel studies the weather forecasts to determine how he will do his baking for the next day.

He explains it this way: "If the weatherman says 'cold,' I bake extra coffee cake, doughnuts — other things that go with coffee. "Warmer," I make fruit tarts, chiffon pies in greater quantity. "Rain," I cut down on the bake shop production 30 per cent because not so many people come downtown when it rains and they don't like to carry packages."

House Passes New Farm Bill

Approves Soil Bank Without Advance Payments Provision

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—The House passed a new farm bill today, approving President Eisenhower's soil bank program but denying him authority to advance farmers 500 million dollars in soil bank benefits this year.

Nevada May Give Support To Symington

To Pick Convention Delegates; Might Favor The Senator

RENO, Nev., May 3—(AP)—Although he's not an avowed candidate for the nomination, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) may pick up some presidential chips in Nevada's Democratic convention. Party members meet at Lovelock Saturday to select those who will cast Nevada's 14 votes at the national convention in Chicago next July.

To Elect 28 Delegates

Twenty-eight delegates will be elected with one-half vote each. They probably will be uninstructed and not bound by the unit rule requiring the state's 14 votes to be cast as a whole. Twenty-eight alternates also will be named.

Symington spoke at a party gathering here last year and made a good impression on several top leaders, including some who four years ago fought hard for the election of Adlai Stevenson.

Neither Stevenson nor the other announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) ever have been particularly strong in Nevada. The state voted Republican in the 1952 presidential election.

Jack Stapleton To Head Blair's Governor Drive

JEFFERSON CITY, May 3—(AP)—Lt. Gov. James T. Blair Jr., announced today Jack Stapleton Sr., of Stanberry will manage his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Stapleton, who has been Blair's publicity director, succeeded Ralph Alexander of Columbia, who withdrew because of illness. Stapleton is publisher of the Stanberry Headlight and his son publishes the Dunklin Daily Democrat. The elder Stapleton has been president of the Northwest Missouri Press Assn., president of the Board of Regents for Northwest State College at Maryville, a member of the State Tax Commission and was a colonel on the staff of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark.

This will be the fourth statewide campaign in which he has worked. Blair also announced that Thorpe J. Gordon, Jefferson City undertaker, will be treasurer of his campaign committee as he formerly was for Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

Camporee Will Open On Saturday Morning

The Pettis District Camporee will open officially at 8 a. m. Saturday at the Girl Scout camp, but there will be campfires on both Friday and Saturday nights, to which the parents are invited. Saturday's activities will be directed by Ray Hendricks. Roy Kline is camp chief and camp director is Paul Anthes.

About 250 boys from between 25 and 26 patrols are expected at the Camporee. Highlight of the annual event will be the Camp Court of Honor Sunday night.

Two Men Die, Another Hurt In Headon Wreck

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 3—(AP)—Two men were killed and another seriously injured today in a head-on collision caused by a heavy fog nine miles south of here early. Dead are Carl Hahn, 32, a farmer and well-driller, of Knob Lick, Mo., and Orville C. Skaggs, 25, of Silver Mine, Mo. Injured was James Long, a passenger in Skaggs' car. Long was taken to a Bonne Terre Hospital.

The Weather

CENTRAL MISSOURI—Partly cloudy and cooler today; cloudy with scattered showers likely Saturday; high today in lower 60's.

The temperature Thursday at 7 a. m. was 55; 76 at 1 p. m. and 78 at 2 p. m. Low Wednesday night 45.

Personal Income At Record High—Question Need For Brakes On Nation's Economy Boom

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Two of President Eisenhower's Cabinet officers today reported the nation's economy is continuing to boom, and questioned the need of applying anti-inflationary brakes.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks, reporting a new record high for personal income and a continuing high rate for the gross national product, said he still has a "cheery optimism" about the economic outlook despite soft spots in automobiles and home building.

See Employment Rise

Weeks said employment figures due to come out soon will show a substantial increase in the number of workers with jobs. The March employment figure, issued last month, was 63,078,000.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell questioned the need of last month's credit-tightening action by the Federal Reserve Board, saying:

"I don't happen to believe there is an inflationary trend."

Weeks put it this way:

"In view of the tight money situation today the raise in the Federal Reserve discount rate for lending might prove to be a handicap to business expansion and the economy, but in the long run I have confidence that the economy will still move forward."

Bank Lending Rate Raised

The Federal Reserve Board raised its bank lending rate last month to the highest level in more than 20 years. This tended to raise borrowing rates all along the line.

Weeks said the action may require "a close watch."

Both Weeks and Mitchell, at separate news conferences, expressed concern about the possibility of an increase in steel prices as a result of new wage contract negotiations soon to begin. Weeks recalled that he has been urging all industries "not to charge all that the traffic will bear," although he said he recognizes that they must make a profit to stay in business.

Radar 'Catch' Is Heavy

36 Speeders Are Ticketed In School Zone

Thirty-six motorists were checked Thursday morning by radar going through the Horace Mann school zone over the 15 mile zone limit and received tickets to appear in police court. Nine of the violators appeared at police headquarters and posted cash bonds to appear in police court Friday.

The radar check which started last Monday officially has resulted in the apprehension of many motorists who absently minded drive over the posted speed in the various zones.

Efforts to curb the speed through school zones have been unsuccessful over recent years, but with the modern radar speed checker it appears as if more attention will be paid to the speed laws from now on.

The radar was set up on 16th street about 8 a. m. and the checking started. Late risers hurrying to get to their work failed to heed to the 15-mile-an-hour speed law and as a result were stopped a short distance after passing the school by the police who waited notification from the radar operator.

In 2½ hours 36 tickets were issued to persons driving from 10 to 25 miles per hour over the speed limit.

"The city has been well posted for more than two months, with speed and radar signs. Special zones such as school, hospital, downtown, parks and so forth, likewise have been posted. The delay in putting to use the radar was to give the motoring public an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the speed laws and zones," Chief Edgar Neighbors said.

Continuing he said, "we operated the radar for more than ten days on tests and issued courtesy warnings to many motorists. During that time the officers did make several arrests but those were of persons who were way out of line, but the general use was for courtesy operation."

Charles Walch Dies In Plane Crash In Ohio

Sedalian Is Killed While On Flight With Companion

Charles Frederick Walch II, 20, son of Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, was instantly killed about 5 p. m. Thursday in a plane crash which also took the life of a companion. The crash occurred about three miles south of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Walch, a junior at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, was a member of the Air Force R.O.T.C., and had a flight trainer's rating. It was believed he and his companion, identified as Perry Gilpatrick, 20, Worthington, Ohio, were on a training flight in a Civil Air Patrol plane.

Farmer Witnessed Accident

It was reported a farmer in the vicinity of the crash said he heard the plane and looked up in time to see it nose over and go crashing to the earth. The Ohio State Patrol said Gilpatrick was apparently at the controls.

Charles F. Walch was born in Sedalia Oct. 10, 1935, the son of Harry W. and the late Martha Inge Walch. He was the grandson of Mrs. Minnie Walch, 915 West Third, widow of the late Charles F. Walch, Sr. His maternal grandmother was the late Mrs. Ada Inge, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Stanley.

He attended Mark Twain school and graduated from the Smith-Cotton High School in the class of 1953. Following his graduation he attended Texas Christian University, on a music scholarship, and the past two school years has been a student at Kenyon College.

An Aviation Enthusiast

He was an aviation enthusiast and learned to fly while at TCU, also gaining his pilot's license and his flight instructor rating there. After going to Kenyon he was majoring in economics.

Walch was also a talented musician, and while in Smith-Cotton high school took an active part in the music department. As a member of the high school band he served as student director under Mrs. Carl G. Schrader. He also served as concert master of the high school orchestra.

He was twice honored by being selected to attend the National Music Camp at Interlocken, Mich., and, the following years attended the Mid-Western Music Camp at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan.

Upon his graduation from Smith-Cotton he was selected as the outstanding senior in instrumental music.

Was Engaged To Sedalia Girl

This past Easter Sunday the engagement of Miss Mary Jo Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Case, 1016 West Tenth, to Charles Walch was announced. They were to have been married this fall. Miss Case was enroute to Gambier from Fort Worth, Tex., to spend this weekend at Kenyon. (Please Turn To Page 6 Col. 4)

Israel Meets Agreements With Syria, Jordan, Lebanon

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 3—(AP)—Dag Hammarskjold came up today with three more Palestine cease-fire agreements. Aimed to muzzle the guns on both sides of the frontiers, they were reached by Israel and three of her Arab neighbors—Syria, Jordan and Lebanon.

The U. N. secretary general, who broke the ice with an Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire pact in the Gaza area effective April 18, announced these results of his five-weeks old Middle East peace mission in a preliminary report from Jerusalem to the Security Council.

Agreements Unconditional

Heading home now by way of Cairo and Rome, he said the agreements were unconditional, with a reservation as to self-defense. The right of self-defense is held by all nations under the U. N. Charter.

The new agreements are intended to reinforce cease-fire pledges made by Israel and her Arab neighbors in the armistice agreements that ended the Palestine war of 1948.

Hammarskjold told the Security Council conditions in the Gaza area, long a center of bloodshed and tension, have "considerably improved as a result of strict orders" issued by the Israeli and Egyptian governments.

Will Report To Council

He will make a full report to the Council at a meeting expected to be called by Council President Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia late next week. But Hammarskjold is expected to hurry back to the area to keep on negotiating for complete compliance with the 1949 armistices that brought uneasy peace to the area.

It was these pacts, hammered out on the island of Rhodes, that won the Nobel peace prize for Ralph Bunche, American under-secretary in the U. N. and one of Hammarskjold's chief aides. Since 1949, supplementary cease-fire pacts have been only on a piece-by-piece basis to halt incidents along the borders.

No Note On UN Observers Patrol

His report gave no indication whether he had gained all-around approval for free movement of U. N. observers in all disputed areas, as required in the armistice agreements, or whether mined barriers and neutral strips along demarcation lines had been looked on favorably.

Nor was there any hint whether he went into Israel's demand that Egypt agree with a 1951 Security Council resolution calling for opening the Suez Canal for Israel-bound shipping.

He gave no comment on the British-supported idea for a U. N. military force to patrol the Gaza area between Israel and Egypt.

The Gaza area has been the scene of raids, retaliatory sorties, patrol clashes and artillery duels that have counted scores dead and wounded.

Jordan's and Syria's objections to Israeli plans to use waters of the Jordan River for irrigation and hydroelectric power stations in the demilitarized area threatened for a time to balk their acceptance of any understanding with Israel and Hammarskjold.

A dash back to Damascus yesterday cleared up the situation although there was no confirmation from Syrian sources of an Israeli report the Syrians had dropped their objections.

I-Star General Joins Air Force Reserve

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 3—(AP)—A one-star general became a one-stripe enlisted man in the Air Force Reserve here today.

Brig. Gen. Bruce Johnson of Warwick, R. I., who was forced by law to go on the retired list on his 60th birthday last Monday, wanted to stay active in the reserve, and the only way he could do so was as an enlisted man. At stake is reserve pay, for which he needs four more years of service.

So today he reported to the Providence Air Reserve Center here and was sworn in as an airman third class—the equivalent of private first class—by Lt. Col. John P. McBryde, the center commandant.

Retirement pay, however, was only a minor consideration in his decision to join the enlisted ranks, the new airman said. His big objective was to stay active.

Whiteman AB Gives United Fund Checks

Three Communities Receive $12,200 In Contributions

Whiteman Air Force Base on Thursday afternoon presented $12,200 in United Fund checks to Sedalia, Warrensburg and Windsor.

The presentation was made at a luncheon of the Officers Club with Col. A. J. Beck, 340th Bombardment Wing commander, and Col. Charles V. Neil, base commander as hosts to representatives from the three communities.

Accepting a check for $7,500 for Sedalia was W. C. Ream, city clerk, on behalf of Mayor Julian H. Bagby, who is out of town. With Ream was Clinton Muller, United Fund chairman in Sedalia.

Warrensburg received $4,200 and Windsor was presented $500. The distribution of funds was based on an interpolation of the number of WAFF personnel living in the communities and the population of those communities. Knob Noster and La Monte did not receive checks because they have no United Fund organization which could receive it, but their shares were added to the Warrensburg and Sedalia checks because the money will be distributed to the county and national agencies those two communities would normally support.

Of the amount given to Sedalia, the agencies will receive their shares in this way: Community Chest, $4,000; Salvation Army, $1,500; Cancer Fund, $900; Heart Fund, $600; Cerebral Palsy, $300; and Muscular Dystrophy, $200.

In addition to the United Fund money, E. A. Goodwin, Red Cross representative at the base will receive a check later for $2,000 to go to the local chapter to augment contributions to national charities which the community supports.

This is Whiteman AFB's first United Fund drive. It began Jan. 15 and ran for ten weeks with a goal of a full day's pay from every one at the base, including civilians working there. A total of $18,211.26 was contributed. Of this amount, $2,211.26 went for an emergency relief fund at the base and for some expenses incurred during the drive. A single drive was adopted to eliminate the many previous drives which took valuable man-hours and money to operate.

The Air Force encourages its personnel to participate in the activities of the communities in which they live and the success of the drive was described as an indication that they are accepting their responsibility.

Tentative Accord On Cities Service Gas Rate Increases

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—A tentative compromise agreement on wholesale natural gas rate increases sought by Cities Service Gas Co. was reported today.

Unconfirmed reports were that the compromise would call for increases amounting to several million dollars less than originally proposed by the company.

Whether a final agreement is reached may depend on several issues still under discussion at conferences of interested parties.

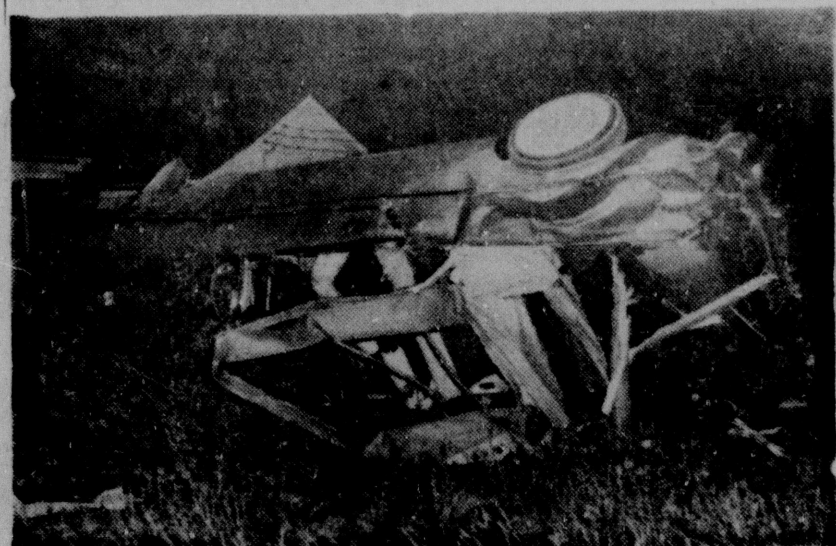

A hearing on the rate increases, originally set for last Tuesday before a Federal Power Commission FPC examiner, was postponed until today. This morning, it was recessed until tomorrow afternoon to permit further conferences.

Sitting in on the unofficial negotiations are representatives of Cities Service, several municipalities affected, regulatory commissions of Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri and utilities which buy gas from Cities Service.

Children's Center Assistants Learn Of Therapeutic Artcrafts

Representatives of the Crippled Children's Center, headed by Mrs. Rudolph Swope, director of the center, recently completed an eight week's course in Kansas City at the Craft Center located at 1010 Oak Street, which is sponsored by a number of non-profit welfare and health agencies in Kansas City.

The course consisted of training in recreational workshops for parents and leaders of handicapped and convalescent children. This training will assist Mrs. Swope and her staff of assistants and volunteer helpers in training the youngsters attending the local center.

The workshop training in Kansas City had as its curriculum a number of discussion groups and practical training revolving around crafts and activities to assist the handicapped or convalescent child in working in groups and as individuals. Training was also given in the physical aspects of various types of disabilities and long-term illnesses. Demonstrations in construction of simple musical instruments, marionettes, puppets, adapted games, and other forms of crafts and recreational activities were given.

Since the completion of the course, the group plans at least two leader training meetings during the week of May 28 in order to present a similar course with a stress on crafts learned in the Kansas City course. Anyone who will be interested in helping to guide the children in their assimilation of the arts and crafts during the summer session of the Crippled Children's Center are urged to attend. This will not only include new volunteer helpers but those who have previously assisted at the center.

Another important feature of these meetings will be brief summaries of the discussions given by authorities at the Kansas City school on various subjects concerning therapy, family relations with the child and psychological aspects of physical disabilities.

Those attending the Kansas City recreation workshops from Sedalia included Mrs. Swope, Mrs. Cleo McCune, Mrs. Norma Jean Urton, Mrs. Georgia Collins, Mrs. Janice Guilbault, and Mrs. Robb Whitley.

Lions Prepare For Annual Broom Sale

With the arrival of a large supply of Missouri Blind manufactured brooms, mops, and other clean-up equipment, the Sedalia Lions Club is well prepared to participate with Sedalia's Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up week of May 7-14, by holding its third annual broom sale.

In the past, proceeds from such sales have been used to purchase white canes for the Blind of Pettis County, telebinocular visual testing equipment for both the Sedalia Public and Provincial schools, equipment for the Crippled Children's Center as well as assisting many locally handicapped persons.

The proceeds from this year's sale are to be used to purchase a whirlpool bath and other needed items for the local Crippled Children's Center, a project the Lions Club is very interested in.

In order to contact personally as many people who will want to participate in such a worthy cause a system has been devised for the individual club members, or their wives, to telephone all homes in the city of Sedalia in the near future. Orders will be taken at this time and delivery will be made at a later date.

Business and industrial organizations will be personally contacted for their orders.

Dr. Couey is a nephew of E. W. Couey, 1020 West Fourth. His father, the late Will Couey, was a former Sedalian.

The grant, the largest ever made for a single study of this kind, is for a six-year study of nursing education in hospitals. It will be conducted in Atlanta, Ga., in five hospital schools. Atlanta has been selected as the site of the national study because it contains nursing schools of several types which have cooperated over a decade in an integrated program through Georgia State College.

Some five years ago Dr. and Mrs. Couey founded Couey and Couey, Educational Consultants, with headquarters in Montgomery. This is the first organization of its kind in the United States, being devoted to research and training in the field of adult and professional education. Dr. Couey was director of research in human resources for the United States Air Force at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, prior to establishing the consultant agency.

This is the first major grant which has been made to the new organization but it is indicative of the type and scope of project which will be sought. At the present time, proposals have been drawn up for some 20 research studies, involving more than two million dollars in funds. These studies cover a wide range of problems, relative to industry, government, and education. Each study will have a project staff headed by a top educational consultant and will run from three to five years or more.

Dr. Couey's mother, Mrs. Ida Couey, resides in Trinidad, Colo., where Dr. Couey grew up. He was graduated from the Colorado College and obtained his master's degree from Colorado State College. Education and his Doctorate from the University of Washington, Seattle. His wife obtained a master's degree from the

He Must Bring Changes Without Upset—

Hero of Tarawa Invasion Picked As Director of Recruit Training

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marines have picked as new boss of their recruit training a hero of bloody Tarawa, Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup.

Shoup's job will be to make boys into Marines without hazing—and without endangering their lives.

He also will have the job of curbing some of the old disciplinary practices of the Marines' noncommissioned officer drill instructors without undermining their authority or wrecking their morale.

Shoup's appointment as inspector general of recruiting was announced yesterday by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, in the aftermath of an investigation into the April 8 fatal march at Parris Island, S.C.

In that march at the recruit depot six "boots," as the Corps calls the untrained, were drowned. Their platoon had been ordered into a tide-swept creek by a drill instructor "to teach them discipline."

Shoup is a tough man. On occasion, the full-necked product of a farm near Battle Ground, Ind., has been known to use language which any old salty-dog type Marine could admire.

The 52-year-old graduate of DePauw University—he went to school on a scholarship and was an A student—is also a fighting man.

As much as any man he has been credited with the U.S. victory at Tarawa. After those bloody 72 hours in November 1943 in which the Marines suffered 3,166 casualties, Shoup was awarded the Medal of Honor.

"Although severely shocked by an exploding shell . . . and suffering serious leg wounds which had become infected," the citation read, "Shoup fearlessly exposed himself and . . . rallying his hesitant troops by his own inspiring heroism, he gallantly led them across the fringing reef to charge the heavily fortified island and reinforce hard-pressed, thinly held lines."

After the initial assault wave hit the beach they were clobbered. Some units had 70 per cent casualties.

Offshore in landing craft, Shoup ordered his reserves into the desperate fight and then led them in the sweep inland. By nightfall he had set up his command post—15 yards from the water.

As the senior officer ashore, Shoup, who had received a field promotion to colonel only a couple of days before, directed the entire operation.

"By his brilliant leadership, daring tactics and selfless devotion to duty," the citation read, "Col. Shoup was largely responsible for the final, decisive defeat of the enemy."

In World War II Shoup also collected two Legions of Merit, a commendation ribbon and assorted campaign ribbons for service in the Guadalcanal, Saipan and Tinian operations in the Pacific.

Shoup signed up for the Marines in 1926, underwent training as a second lieutenant and subsequently served in China and at sea.

The new recruit chief, who is answerable directly to Pate, is married to the former Zola De Haven, of Covington, Ind. They have a daughter, Carolyn, 22, and a son, Robert, 18.

Interpreting The News—Success In Mideast Depends On Whether Accords Stick

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The success of Dag Hammarskjöld's mission to the Middle East to date depends on whether the agreements he obtained actually stop organized fighting along the demarcation line between Israel and the Arab states.

Success for the future depends on whether this stoppage of the shooting, if it actually occurs, will create an atmosphere in which more fundamental settlements can be approached.

Hammarskjöld mentions the next step as an effort to attain observance of other sections of the original truce.

Chief of them, touched by the current cease-fire agreement, provided that neither side should seek military or political advantage during negotiation of peace treaties. This has been violated in every direction.

Negotiation on fundamental problems was not a part of Hammarskjöld's mission, and there is no indication that they are or will soon become negotiable. These are the disposition of Arab refugees from Palestine and Jewish immigration.

There are about a million Arabs in camps around the Israeli border whom the Arab states will not absorb because they nurture the seeds of hatred by which the idea of reconquest can be kept alive.

There is the Arab fear that unlimited immigration into Israel accompanying industrial development will eventually produce the same pressures for conquest as were produced in Germany years ago.

The current cease-fire agreement does nothing to lessen the seriousness of these problems. It was produced by realization on both sides that the world would not permit them to fight at this time, and the fact that Egypt was not ready.

Whatever their motives, the Russians probably are responsible for a good bit of this realization. When the Communists agreed to supply arms, the Egyptians started to act more boldly. When Russia said she would go along with the United Nations in trying to avoid war, and when she said she would enter into an agreement with other nations for a ban on arms shipments to the Middle East, the situation changed.

Man's Title Changed To Fit His Position

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John T. Murley will get a more fitting title than assistant to the president of Louisville Transit Co. The title had become confusing because the firm had been without a president since January 1955. Murley will be called general manager.
